About Sardar Patel University

Sardar Patel University was established in 1955 and it is situated in Vallabh Vidyanagar a twin city of Anand, Gujarat. It is known as education hub of Gujarat state. The University has twenty seven postgraduate Departments. Many of the Departments have received financial assistance from UGC, COSIST, DRDO, DAE, ICSSR, DST, CSIR, ICAR, GSBTM, ARDB, DBT, SAP, CAS etc., to establish centers of excellence, undertaking research and establishment of infrastructural facilities. The National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) has accredited the University with 'B Grade' (CGPA 2.83).

About Department of Social Work.

Late Shri. Kiritbhai Patel had a flair for rural life and an inclination for the development of the people in rural vicinity. He wanted a course in medium where scientific knowledge with touch of humanistic values, blended along with values, cultures and traditions laid a pathway for the development of the rural society. He along with the Vice Chancellor (1997) of our university, made an imprint of the mission by laying down the foundation of Department. The Department of Social Work, since its inception has been tirelessly working into transforming the student body into a cadre of competent professionals. It is with this aim, Department of Social Work, has been having an array of various activities as well as development-oriented techniques.

Aim and Objectives of the Seminar

- ◆ To bring about discussion and deliberation among the academicians and public on present topic
- ◆ To encourage research in upcoming issues of human rights and challenges faced.
- ◆ To sensitize Role of Professional Social Work.

About the Seminar:

The oldest of the thoughts on Human Rights believes it to be a product of Natural Law, some believe it to be a codified moral behavior, while Weber defines the Human rights as to be a sociological pattern of rule setting. However, the two modern dominant and wide in scope theories on the subject matter i.e. Interest theory and the Will theory argue the Human Rights are to promote certain interests of humans and validity of Human Rights based on the urge for enjoying freedom respectively. The issue of Human Rights has been at centre stage ever since the Universal Declaration on Human Rights took place in 1948. Many international treaties and conventions have been adopted and brought into force: the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR); the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ICESCR); Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW); Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racial Discrimination (CERD); Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD); Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC); United Nations Convention Against Torture (CAT); International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families (ICRMW or more often MWC). Though a lot of progress has been met on the issue but still a lot needs to be done. As we move into the latter half of the second decade of Twenty First Century, an evaluation of the progress made in the path of achieving these rights is called for.
